Palo Colorado School Closed

About fifty parents of children who have been attending Palo Colorado School gathered at the school board meeting at the High School Monday evening to learn the fate of their one room school which has been run by Nancy Bottaro. Most of the parents were residents of the Palo Colorado Canyon, but many were from the Carmel area who drove their children there for the special education program offered.

Supt. Dr. Harris J. Taylor recommended to the board that Palo Colorado School be closed for education purposes. The children, he felt, would be better off in a larger school where there were more teachers specializing in grade level subjects; better library and equipment facilities.

He pointed out that it has cost about $15,000 a year to run the school. The 21 students could be absorbed by other schools in the district, such as Captain Cooper in Big Sur.

Parents objected violently and articulately that to bus their children the 20 miles of winding road down to Big Sur, when they could walk to the nearby school, was out of the question.

Norman Godbe, chairman of the Palo Colorado School Association which includes parents of 21 students from 14 families, said that the unanimous wishes of all the parents would be ignored.

Robert Muson, property owner in the Canyon and father of four children, said he had read the deed and that the property would have to revert to the original owners if not used for education.

Another parent wondered what steps would have to be taken to revert to their own school board.

A mother who lives 10 miles up in the mountains above Palo Colorado wondered how much longer it

Something To Do About Taxes

by Gunnar Norberg

Last week's PINE CONE reported tax rate increases just ordered by two local taxing bodies—the Carmel School Board and the Carmel City Council. The school tax rate will jump 18.2 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation; the city rate, three cents. By the time the county and the various special-district taxing bodies have completed action—later

Salinas Men Arrested In Beach Rape Case

Three of the four men involved in the July rape of a 19 year old Pebble Beach girl were formally arrested today according to Carmel Police Captain Ellis. Two of the adults arrested were eighteen year old Freddie Lee Davis and nineteen year old John Rickey Odom. The 17-year-old juvenile involved was bound over to Superior Court on felony charges.

The fourth man could not be located and a felony warrant has been issued for his arrest.

The three men and the juvenile are all residents of Salinas.

this month—in setting their respective 1968-69 tax rates, the total likely hike in the tax rate that you, the Carmel property taxpayer, will pay will be something like 40 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

Just what does this mean? It means that for every thousand dollars of assessed valuation, you will have to pay about $4.00 more than you did last year.

And, in most cases, the jump in the tax paid in the 1967-68 fiscal year, by Carmel property owners, was terrific, because of a sudden and steep upward revision of assessment revaluations last year. The over-all jump in assessed property values in

Forum Requested in Devendorf Park

James McClain, arrested August 4 for violating the new city ordinance to curb "an extraordinary influx of undesirable and unsanitary visitors to the City, sometimes known as 'hippies'," requested a public assembly Sunday, August 18 at 12 noon in Devendorf Plaza.

The assembly will be held, McClain said, to discuss in public forum, the constitutionality of the new law.

McClain and Robert McGinley, Harcourt Ave., Monterey, were arrested under Section 2 of the ordinance which makes it illegal to "protractedly lounge on seats, benches, sidewalks, curbs, planters, walls, lawns, or other area . . ." within the city limits.

The two men will be represented in court by attorney Herbert Schwartz of Heisler and Stewart, Carmel.

The case will be heard Sept. 5, 1:30 p.m. Schwartz said the men will enter a plea of demurrer to complaint, a legal move under which the lawyer may challenge the constitutionality of the charges.

A battery of tests will be given to all students new to Carmel High School in Brey Hall on Tuesday, September 3, from 10 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. This does not include those who attended Carmel Middle School. Since these tests are mandatory, students are urged to take them at this time and avoid being taken from class work to make up the tests after school starts. ## Honors in Education

Nearly one thousand undergraduates at the University of California, Santa Barbara have been honored by publication of their names on the Dean's List for Spring Quarter, 1968.

Roger L. Ritter, son of Mrs. Genevieve Ritter, P.O. Box 4488, Carmel with an undeclared major was one of only 32 freshmen to attain the honor.

Also on the list of honor students was Catherine Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cameron, P.O. Box 50, Carmel. Miss Cameron, a sophomore history major attained a straight "A" report for the Spring Quarter.

At the University of California, Berkeley campus, eight students from Carmel earned at least a "B" average for the Spring Quarter. They were Terry Steven Cox, Timothy James Meade, Barbara K. Silvergold, Natasha Doner, Gyongy Sarolta Laky, Stephen John Norton and Jerald Zellhoefer.

Concert at RLS Well Attended

The candle lighted chapel at Robert Louis Stevenson was the setting for one of the Sunday evening concerts by gifted students of the second Hidden Valley seminar at Robert Louis Stevenson School. The outlines of the great pine trees beyond the high glass wall behind the altar contributed to the feeling that the audience was out of doors.

The a cappella Chorale, conducted by John Waddell was divided for the first number Spanish renaissance music. The girls with their beautiful pure voices were before the audience. The deep, organ like voices of the men came from the balcony in back of the chapel.

Jerry Schlegel on trumpet and Randall Bare on the piano did a Concerto by Hummel which was enthusiastically received. Both boys are extremely talented.

Some charming duets by Bach were sung by Gale Oliver, soprano and Gail Anderson, alto. They were accompanied by Daniel Reiter on cello and Nancy Shideler on the piano.

The handsome young men joined the girls in the last number, also a cappella, singing a motet by Brahms.

Other such concerts will be given August 18, 25, and 30. There is no charge at the Pebble Beach gate for attending these concerts. A special concert by Stanley Plummer, violinist, will be presented on Saturday, August 24.

New Program and New Teachers

At Middle School

During the 1968-69 school year all 5th & 6th grade Reading, English, Math, & Social Studies teachers will be teaching in two areas instead of only one as in the past.

This 5th & 6th grade team will be composed of eight teachers, four of which will teach Social Studies and Math while the other four will be teaching English and Reading.

This arrangement offers several opportunities:

to be selective in placing students with certain teachers.

for ability grouping in each of the four disciplines regardless of student placement in any one discipline.

for non-graded grouping in the gifted track (i.e. 5th grade students taking reading with 6th grade students)

Students can be in a gifted Reading group and be in an average Math class.

Ordinarily students will have the same teacher for two subjects (rather than four teachers he will now have only two).

5th & 6th grade students will be located in one area of the campus for several consecutive periods (3 and in some cases 4 periods)

Other features of past 5th & 6th grade student scheduling which have been retained are:

(1) 80 min. periods for lab Science.

(2) A choice of French and Spanish is offered as a part of the regular course of study.

(3) Some common preparation periods for any given team of teachers.

(4) Opportunities for large/small group instruction and teaming on an intra/interdisciplinary basis.

New teachers at Middle School will be: Mrs. Jan Michaelson, English & Reading; Mrs. Betsy Taylor, Reading; Clell C. Seelig, Science; Miss Elsa Burkhardt, Science; Mrs. Joan Shay, Counselor; Mrs. Nancy Balmer, English & Reading; Miss Rita Rudolph, Mathematics & Social Studies; Mrs. Donna Haun, Science; Miss Kathleen Toelkes, English; and Howard Janssen, Science & Physical Education.

William Mallek, former principal of Tulare County School, spent his sabbatical leave last year studying at the University of Oregon and will be teaching Social Studies.

Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt returning to English Department after spending her sabbatical leave traveling and observing elementary schools in England.

Mrs. Shirley Taylor spent her leave of absence obtaining her Master's Degree in special education at San Francisco State College and has been assigned an educationally handicapped class at Carmel Middle School.

Joe Broadman, art teacher, will begin the school year but will spend second semester sabbatical leave traveling in Europe.

Population Bomb

The Sierra Club has just published THE POPULATION BOMB by Dr. Paul Ehrlich, professor of biology and Director of Graduate Study for the Department of Biological Sciences, Stanford University. The foreword is by David Brower, Executive Director of the Sierra Club.

The Population Policy Committee of the Sierra Club has emphasized that continuing population growth is the root cause of all conservation problems. The pressure for living space, for food and for survival itself is destructive to wilderness areas and to any concern for conservation. We cannot forever continue to multiply and subdue the earth without losing our standard of life and the natural beauty that must be part of it. THE POPULATION BOMB clearly demonstrates the disasters we face and proposes practical measures to avoid them.

Back From New Mexico

Ted and Ralph Forbes and David Dibiase, all of Carmel, were on the last lap of their trip home from New Mexico where they had visited brother Robert Forbes who has a coffee shop there. The '55 Chevie had behaved. No mishaps.

They stopped in San Francisco to hear the musical group at the Avalon before returning to Carmel and somehow got separated from David. They hunted and hunted to no avail and decided they might as well go home.

When they arrived at the Robert Forbes residence here, there was David with three young ladies from Tennessee. He had persuaded them that he was harmless so that they would give him a lift. The young ladies stayed for two days for an unexpected house party.

What's New in District Schools

River School

Mr. Edwin L. McCurry is to be the new principal at River School this year. He will have much the same staff except for Elaine Sandberg who was at Tularcitos last year, who will teach the educationally handicapped. Miss Naomi Reddert is returning to River School at her request. Mrs. Alice Powell, who used to teach at Woods School, requested a transfer to River School in order to work on a reading development program. Mrs. Powell traveled abroad this summer.

Woods School

Mr. Peter Glod, who was vice principal at Carmelo last year, will be the new teaching principal at Woods School.

A new teacher, Mr. Jerry

Warner, of Carmel will join the staff. Mr. Warner taught science in Monterey and has written for SRA textbooks.

Other Schools

Philip Smith, who taught there last year, has assumed new responsibilities as teaching principal at Carmelo School. Mrs. Imogene Speiser will return to teaching at Carmelo.

Luther Askew will be teaching vice principal at Tularcitos School. Miss Mary Feeny will be the new teacher there.

Jack McCormack, teacher at Tularcitos School, requested a transfer to Captain Cooper School and has been assigned to teach third and fourth grades. Mrs. Patricia Morris is a new teacher at Captain Cooper School, also.

Off With The Old

by Charles M. Strosnider

The grasshopper days of the summer solstice are waning and the pedestrian time of the grind is fast approaching. Soon will come the ritual of the shucking of the serape and hippiedom accoutrements, the bathing of the foot and the shearing of the locks, and withal, the stance erect, the eye bright and shining, facing the brave new world of tomorrow's classrooms.

Look back not sorrowfully, for the merchants of Carmel are ready to clothe you in raiments more varied in style, color and cloth than ever in recent history. The permissiveness of today's styles allows the taste of each individual's wildest flight of fancy to be gratified. Mini-tyle, maxi-style and maxi-mini. Culottes, sheaths and suits. Corduroy, plaids and leather.

And the men have turtle-necks, nehru's and Omar Sharif's, not to forget the traditional sports and regular shirting. Colors that bedazzle and neck hangings that bespeak of the prophets.

The shops of Carmel are stocked for you and can meet the most discriminating and diverse of tastes. They boggle not at unique requests. The merchants have long catered to the artistic and the sophisticate.

Prepare now for the coming toll of the bell while the stock is new and fresh and the merchants and staff can devote time to planning your coordinates and perhaps order that special something to top off the wardrobe.

And after the first few days of boy meets girl — and girl sizes up girl — and you settle into the school year, spend more time, thought and effort on the improvement of the mind than you did on the preliminary discussion, shopping and final selection of your wardrobe. Then when the time comes for the selection of future outfits you won't be a nose-pane shopper but will have the bread to finance the threads.

Forty eight percent of our population is eighteen years old or younger. There's going to be an awful lot of crowding at the employment gates in a few years. Be sure you're one of those for whom the doors are open.

The New Textbooks

by Dr. James Holcomb, Assistant Superintendent
in charge of Curriculum

When school opens in September, children attending kindergarten through grade eight in the Carmel Unified School District and elsewhere throughout California will be provided new music and English Language Arts textbooks. As with all books adopted for the use in the schools of California, these texts have been carefully reviewed by subject matter specialists, teachers, administrators and curriculum experts; have been recommended for adoption by the California State Board of Education. The evaluation of the newly adopted textbooks began over two years ago and those books selected for use were printed during the 1967-68 school year.

English

The English textbooks include: Ginn Elementary English, for grades one and two; the Roberts English Series, published by Harcourt Brace and World, for grades three through six; Our Language Today, published by the American Book Company, for grades seven and eight; and also for the seventh and eighth grades, Discovering Your Language, and The Uses of Language, by Holt, Rinehart and Winston.

The new English texts stress improving speaking, listening, reading, and writing to enable students to communicate more effectively. In addition, the Roberts English Series reflects the latest scholarship in the analysis of the English language and uses one of the more recent approaches to the teaching of grammar.

Spelling

Spelling textbooks to be used in September, 1968, include: Basic Goals in Spelling, published by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, for grades one through six; and, for grades seven and eight, Spelling and Writing Patterns, published by Follett, and the Reading Road to Spelling, published by Harper and Row. As the California State Curriculum Commission has indicated, "Many improvements have been made in the teaching of spelling, and thus in spelling books, in the nine years since the previous spelling adoption." Linguists have provided a careful analysis of English speech sounds and their relationship to the letters used to record sound in writing. The new spelling textbooks have been designed to enable children to learn relationships between sounds and letters in addition to memorizing the correct spelling of a limited number of words.

Dictionaries

For the first time the State of California has adopted dictionaries for use in the public schools. Dictionaries will be provided by the State for grades three through eight. The adoption of dictionaries reflects the concern of teachers and members of the Curriculum Commission for the development of dictionary usage skills.

Music

Music textbooks adopted for use in September include the following: two books for use by kindergarten teachers, Exploring Music, published by Holt Rinehart Winston Company, for grades seven and eight, Discovering Music Together and Grow with Music. Textbooks adopted for music instruction offer a program to build careful listening skills. The new textbooks suggest learning opportunities designed to "develop perceptive pleasure in the rewards of music as a discipline characterized by rhythm, melody, harmony, and form."

The provision of textbooks for the children of California represents a substantial investment by the people of California. Recognizing this, and desiring the best possible materials, the State Board of Education and the California Curriculum Commission involve large numbers of people and the evaluation of books prior to their adoption. School districts throughout the State will be implementing programs to insure the effective use of the newly adopted materials.

ting, Consumer Math and Education, Science Survey, Marine Biology Survey and Computer Science Survey.

Arthur J. Gumbrell, principal, said that over the summer improvements have been made in the administration building, the gymnasium and the student store.

With the expanding faculty, more office space was needed, said Gumbrell. Men have been working all summer, painting and refurbishing the buildings. The attendance office has been moved to a more convenient location and another office has been added for the new men's vice principal, noted Gumbrell.

Student Body funds were allocated to improve the student store and purchase lunch tables.

Carpenters have just about finished paneling the gymnasium.

The principal stated that the faculty is looking forward with enthusiasm to an interesting and challenging school year.

Master's Degree

Gay Round of Parties for the Goslings

The John Goslings are having a marvelous homecoming to Carmel after their first season in Erie, Pennsylvania where John is conductor of the Symphony orchestra there. Mr. Gosling for five years headed the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

Reunions with members of the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society which he founded have been particularly memorable, and will climax Saturday evening with a dinner at del Mesa to which everyone who has ever been a member has been invited.

There was a dinner given for them by Col. and Mrs. Elliott Parker of Pebble Beach; cocktails at Claudia Van Vleet's; breakfast party at the Charles Trumbly's.

Margaret Gosling, who is an artist, was taken on a tour of Carmel art galleries, and daughter Susan loved the Fair.

The past weekend was spent in San Francisco where they stayed in the apartment of the Walter de Martinis. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rumbler, violinist with the San Francisco Symphony. Sunday they were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Storseth. Cellist with the SF Symphony, Mr. Storseth was principal cellist here.

Back to Carmel for a dinner party at the Bruce Sprungs. Son Greg Sprung used to be John's pupil on the trumpet.

Monday evening the Goslings gave a party for Mrs. Louise Vadelsky, the cellist, and the next day they were entertained by the Mast Wolfsons. Yesterday while Margaret was being entertained by Mrs. Parker at a luncheon, John was playing golf with Mr. Charles Oler, a singer in the Chorale.

Part of this weekend will be spent at the Trumbly summer cottage at Brookdale, above Santa Cruz.

Before they go back they will visit southern California where they will visit Dr. Hans Richard Lert who recently left Asilomar where he was conducting the American Symphony. Susan who is 14, will want to go to Disneyland, and they will stop off in Santa Barbara to see Gary Graffman and Leon Fleischer.

The Goslings have enjoyed their first winter in Pennsylvania. They are only 15 miles from a ski slope and Susan has learned to ice skate. Of course they miss the beauty of Carmel.

Big Sur Wedding

The wedding of Miss Patricia Agnes Smith, daughter of Mrs. D. George Smith, and the late Mr. Smith, took place recently to Rodney E. Folden of San Jose at St. Francis of the Redwoods Chapel at Big Sur. Patricia's brother, Richard C. Smith was one of the ushers.

Big Sur Grange hall was decorated with ferns and varicolored flowers for the reception that followed. A large number of relatives and friends, many from out of town, crowded the hall.

school. She belonged to the Dos Palos Order of Rainbow for girls, the swim team, Pep Club, and was basketball statistician.

HOW BEAUTY by Mary Kay CAME TO BE

Some years ago there was a man whose business was tanning hides. One day he decided that if one could take an old, stiff, ugly, big-pored hide and turn it into a beautiful, small-pored soft piece of leather like a glove—then, somehow the same miracle could be wrought with human skin—particularly since there were living cells with which to work.

He experimented with his own skin, using in a modified form the things used in tanning hides. At 73 he had smooth, unblemished skin like that of a much younger man.

From this original discovery evolved MARY KAY COSMETICS. You, too, can enjoy this beauty secret. Let me show you that "No Woman Need Ever Look 40!"

The Harveys Return to Carmel

Brigadier General and Mrs. Clarence C. Harvey, Jr., long-time Peninsula enthusiasts, will return here in August to make their home permanently.

General Harvey is retiring from his Air Defense Command with the Army at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. He will join the teaching staff of the Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach this fall. Mrs. Harvey, the former Frances Ford of the Peninsula and San Francisco, hopes to continue her work in mental health and counseling, having recently received her Master's degree in Psychology from George Washington University.

The Harveys met here while the General was on his way to accept a presidential appointment to West Point and Mrs. Harvey was attending Stanford University. They were married in the old Del Monte chapel where Mrs. Harvey's parents had also been married. Her father, the late Dr. Harry G. Ford of Berkeley, was then medical officer for the cavalry regiment. Her mother was the late Edith Pickering Ford who until recently resided at Canterbury Woods.

Mrs. Harvey returned here after finishing Stanford and a course at Kathryn Gibbs School in Boston to work for Del Monte Properties in the movement to return the state capitol to Monterey.

"We were going to put it where Del Monte Center is now located," said Mrs. Harvey. "I am glad we were not successful. The Peninsula has developed more gracefully without having a state capitol at its back door!"

The Harveys made frequent visits to the Peninsula during the two years General Harvey was enrolled at the University of Southern California acquiring his Master's degree in Guided Missiles and Aerodynamics. Mrs. Harvey and their three sons made Carmel their home while General Harvey was stationed in Korea.

All three of the Harvey boys are West Pointers. Captain James F. Harvey, currently stationed in Viet Nam, is married to the former Jeanne Rice of New York. Cadet David D. Harvey, whose engagement to Miss Adrienne Meier, a University of Washington student, was recently announced, is a First Classman. Cadet Robert C. Harvey is entering his second year at the Military Academy.

General and Mrs. Harvey are going to occupy Colonel Richard Long's residence in Pebble Beach while the Longs are in the East.

Flavin Ranch Alliance Tea

Members of the Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula met at a tea held at the Flavin Ranch in Upper Carmel Valley on Thursday, August 15. Mrs. Sean Flavin was the hostess assisted by Co-presidents Mrs. Jerome Carlson and Mrs. James Hathaway. The occasion celebrated the return of Miss Ruth Kohan of Monterey from Paris where the French scholarship winner spent the summer studying advanced French at the Alliance school there. As it was Miss Kohan's first trip abroad, she had many interesting highlights to tell in excellent French. Ruth will continue attending the University of Santa Cruz.

The tea was also in the nature of a farewell for Mrs. John Dowdakin who will soon journey to Paris to visit her mother for two months. Madeleine, who is French, is Vice President of the local Alliance.

Last Holiday

Harriet Meyer who has been Parish secretary at All Saints' Episcopal Church for the past six years, recently returned from a holiday in Los Gatos where she used to live.

While there she had luncheon at Old Town which is the newly converted school which has filled each room with studios art galleries, specialty shops, and four restaurants; like Sunset Cultural Center here, it also has a theatre.

From now on, Harriet will be working only half days.

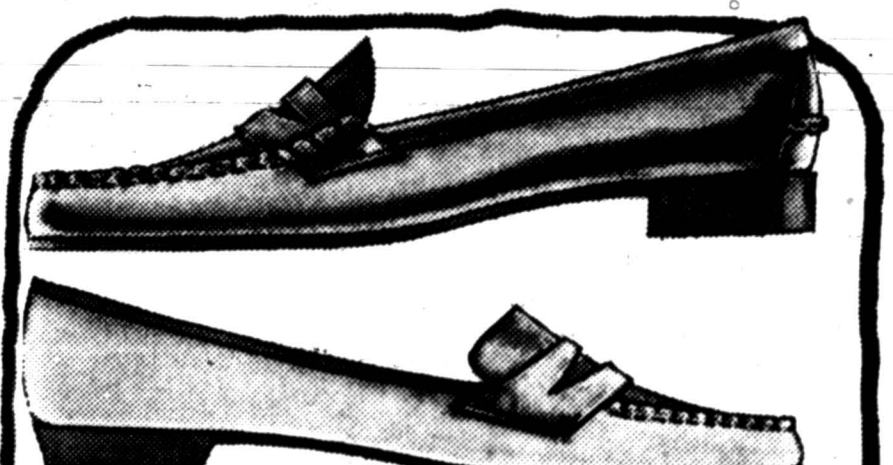

Mommie dress-up luncheon birthday party for Theresa Schneider was attended by Sue Ellen and Colleen Wood, Helen Grice, Candi Marinkovich, Larissa Rogers, Claudia and Janet Baker, all Woods School classmates. The luncheon began with finger bowls which were used throughout the meal. Ambrosia and deep sea salad was accompanied by raspberry tea with honey. ## War Widow Accepts Awards

The Silver Star Medal, the Purple Heart, the National Order of Vietnam and the Vietnam Cross for Gallantry with Palm have been awarded posthumously to Major J. Murphy Jr. of Pebble Beach.

The decorations were presented to his widow, Mrs. Marilyn Murphy, by Colonel R. W. Clark at Mrs. Murphy's home.

Major Murphy met his death in the same action that earned him his nation's third highest decoration for valor on Nov. 17, 1967.

Citing the Major for gallantry in action, the citation read, "Major Murphy was accompanying a reaction force of Popular Forces soldiers moving to investigate a reported roadblock and ambush on one of the major highways of the district. As the unit approached the objective, it encountered Vietnamese soldiers running down the road away from the direction of the sound of small arms fire. Assuming the point position, Major Murphy led the friendly force toward the apparent battle area. After moving only a short distance the Popular Forces element was ambushed by a numerically superior enemy force of company size. Though seriously wounded in the leg in the initial encounter, Major Murphy, ignoring his wound and in full view of the enemy gunners, obtained his counterpart's radio and established communications with aircraft in the area, guiding them expertly into position. As a result of his valor and resolute fighting spirit, supporting elements were able to prevent possible annihilation of the unit."

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

REFLECTIONS ON A GIFT OF WATERMELON PICKLE is as delicious as its sounds. It is a collection of poetry with black and white photographs which blend with the mood of each poem. This excellent selection covers a variety of subjects. The collection was compiled by Stephen Dunning, Edward Lueders and Hugh Smith. In their introductory note they point out that more than half of the poems are chosen by young people from the selections offered to them. Most of them were written during the lifetime of today's young people. I have picked one example, out of many, which says what many young people are trying to say:

"To Look At Any Thing"

"To look at any thing,
If you would know that thing,
You must look at it long:
To look at this green and say
I have seen spring in these

Woods,' will not do—you must Be the thing you see: . . .
You must enter in
To the small silences between

The leaves,
You must take your time
And touch the very peace
They issue from."

John Moffitt

This is a book to own and love, but if you wish to try it first, you'll find it in the library.

A lovely book to look at THE LAST FREE BIRD, by A. Harris Stone. There is page after page of water-color illustrations, with a poetic running text. The message is that people have come and there is no room for the birds to feed and drink. It is beautifully done, but its message is a little beyond the picture-book-age children. Perhaps it is better for older youngsters, but they may not find it because of its picture-book style. It will be with the new books for now, so come in and take a look and see what you think.

An exciting fictionalized biography is Jeannette Nolan's BELLE BOYD: SECRET AGENT. Belle was of the old South and became a spy during the Civil War. The story reads well and also has good historical information and background material. Belle should appeal both to the girls and the boys — she had an adventurous career.

Nita Lohnes Frazier has written a biography of SACAJAWEA, THE GIRL NOBODY KNOWS, attempting to get at the facts of the Indian girl who played an important role in the Lewis and Clark expedition. The book is good history and interesting reading. Sacajawea is still somewhat of a mystery, but this try at a solution is worth reading.

Varied, Interesting Show

By LOUISE COOK

The August show at the Carmel Art Association has been juried and hung with satisfying results. It has a great deal more substance and interest than last month's rather uneven show.

There is a softly-colored oil impression of Positano spilling down the mountain to the gayly umbrellad beach front by Patricia Cunningham. The show is enhanced by one of Jessie Quigley's salty sea-scapes, "Pacific Grove Shores." John Cunningham's flower painting, freely done with obvious spontaneity, in clean, pleasing colors adds to the overall effect of a well balanced exhibit.

S. C. Yuan is represented with one of his handsome oils as well as a delicate drawing of a reclining nude done in his masterful style. There is a sensitive still-life by Charles Thomas, "Une poire pour las soit," painted in the pleasing pale gold palette he enjoys working in. "Flute Player" by Nong is an intriguing combination of balance of design and contrasts of light and shadow. The "Three Dolphins" and "Horses Head" in bronze, created by Robert Hoge are handsome, beautifully executed pieces of sculpture and help to round out a varied and lively exhibition.

Carmelites Win In Fair Photo Show

Steve Gann, of Carmel, won the best of Show award in the amateur division at the Fair last weekend. His picture, titled "Dear John," shows the devastation a soldier feels after hearing his best girl's goodbye.

Other first places went to MPC instructor, Jerry Lebeck, Robert Byers, Carmel, Suzanne James, Carmel Valley, and Robert K. Byers, Jr. Carmel Valley.

Second places went to Peter McArthur, Barbara Mackenzie, Jeraldine Lamb, and John W. Schultz, all of Carmel.

Third places were won by Carmelites Jim Hilden, Ben Lyon, George Grayson, and Barbara Mackenzie.

Mrs. O. L. Spence, recently appointed director of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art on Lincoln Street, stands beside sculpture by C. B. Johnson and miniature paintings by Ben Bishop at their opening preview on Friday evening. The two-man exhibit will last until September 10. The gallery will be open weekdays from 11 to 5 and on Saturdays from 2 to 5 p.m.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

Teen-Age Vacation Party

Brunch for the bunch now that mid-vacation is here, need not be a problem. The teen-age hostess has never had an easier time than with today's wonderful convenience of canned foods. Even the most impromptu meals can have a polished, labored-over look without hours of work. Play tennis, go on that hike, horseback riding or surfing and return for solid nourishment. Party Plans has come up with a his-and-her type of breakfast, something for the girls and something for the boys. Going back to school is the topic of conversation but the menu deserves lots of attention too.

VACATION PARTY

New-Fashioned V-8

Vegetable Nibblers

Turkey Benedict

Potato Pancakes

Bacon Strips

Coffee Tea Milk

The starter-off "new-fashioned V-8" is served in mugs with iced raw vegetables for munching. Turkey Benedict is the girls' specialty. Packaged turkey slices are used with heated canned giblet gravy. Lace this with lemon juice and tarragon, heat and pour over the turkey and poached eggs on toasted English muffins, and you'll be acclaimed a top-notch hostess-cook. The real sustainer for the boys is the cranberry-sauced potato pancakes. This hearty, rib-sticking brunch or late supper treat begins with a can of condensed cream of potato soup which becomes the base of an egg-rich potato pancake, a real snap to prepare. Served with lots of crisp bacon, it's super he-man fare and your beau will gladly share it with you if you'll let him sample your turkey Benedict, so have plenty of each on hand, you clever gals.

New-Fashioned V-8

Two cans (1 pt. 8 fl. ozs., each) V-8 juice; 2 T. brown sugar; 2 t. butter; ¼ t. cinnamon; pineapple sticks.

In saucepan, combine everything excepting pineapple stick stirrers. Serve hot or cold. Serves 8.

Turkey Benedict

Two cans (10½ ozs., each) giblet gravy; 2 t. lemon juice; ¼ t. crushed tarragon; 8 servings sliced hot turkey; 4 English muffins, split and toasted; 8 well-done poached eggs; parsley sprigs; canned grapefruit sections.

In saucepan, combine gravy, lemon juice and tarragon; heat but do not boil.

Arrange turkey on muffin halves; top with poached very fresh jumbo eggs, making sure not to break them. Pour hot gravy over this and garnish with canned grapefruit sections. Serves 8.

Potato Pancakes

Two cans (10½-oz., each) condensed cream of potato soup; ½ cup flour; 6 eggs; 4 T. bacon drippings; 2 cans (1 lb., each) whole cranberry sauce; 2 cups mandarin orange sections (canned); grated orange or lemon rind; plenty of broiled bacon.

In bowl blend soup with flour; beat in eggs and drippings until smooth. Pour ¼ cup batter for each pancake onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake until golden brown on each side; turn only once. Combine cranberry sauce, orange sections and rind. Top pancakes with this cranberry mixture; serve with bacon and a choice of beverages. Serves 8.

This menu may easily be transformed into a late supper party after dancing most of the night away. Reviving cold drinks, such as cokes and soft cider in mugs with tiny doughnuts, also are in order. There are no late stragglers at a brunch or midnight supper-dance. Everyone brings a hearty appetite after exercising and will leave singing your praises.

In perfect rhythm Nikhil Banerjee, sitar; Mahapurush Misra, tabla drums, and Mrs. Banerjee, tamboura, entertained listeners to Indian music. The program was sponsored by Carmel Cultural Commission.

Music of India at Sunset Center

The Carmel Cultural Commission presented its second concert at the Sunset Theatre last Saturday evening, featuring the sound of India.

Nikhil Banerjee, master of the Sitar, accompanied by Mahapurush Misra on the Tabla drums and Mrs. Banerjee playing the tamboura entertained approximately 200 listeners in a program of exotic and rhythmic Indian music.

The artists were seated on a large Indian rug with microphones to amplify the intricate and versatile sounds of their instruments.

The sitar which has about 25 strings and looks like an elongated and curiously shaped mandolin was joined by the Tabla, a pair of Indian drums producing many varied tones and sounds. The tamboura is a stringed instrument making a constant melodic drone.

The concert opened with Raga Hemant, a religious form of moods and emotions expressing such feelings as pathos, love, peace and devotion.

Following a brief intermission, Misra played a drum solo Tintal of sixteen beats to a measure.

The audience listened and watched as the artists bantered back and forth from pathos to love from crescendo to melody in complex variations of improvisations from the basic themes.

The highlight of the evening came when Misra, in perfect time, imitated repetitive and complex variations from the Sitar. In perfect form the artists seemed to communicate telepathically as drums followed chords, seemingly stopping and starting in absolute harmony.

The artists of India were well received by those in attendance. The concert concluded with a light classical Raga, Kamaj at about 11:15.

Movie Review

CAMELOT... A splendid film version of the musical based on Arthurian legend which blends fantasy and touching realism. Outstanding performances.

Theatre Guide

"Streetcar Named Desire": Really marvelous performance of a great play. Characterizations of the aging Southern belle, her younger sister who has married a rough, sadistic type, and the husband, are tops.

"The Boy Friend": Delightful musical, pretty girls, good comedy.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate": Hilarious mystery comedy about the writer who retires to a lonely place to write, but is interrupted by a beautiful girl, thieves, a crazy hermit, crooks etc. Well acted.

Carmel Travelers

These are travel experiences of Dr. and Mrs. Reuben Johnson of MPCC and their son Rod who have been traveling in the Middle East. Dr. Johnson is on Sabbatical leave from Monterey Peninsula College where he is history instructor and Social Science Division chairman. Mrs. June Turner, Carmel, sister of Mrs. Johnson, is sharing these letters with the Pine Cone.

Mrs. Turner joined the family in Stockholm and then they continued to Salzburg where Rod enrolled at the University of Salzburg for studies in German.

Adventures In Ireland

We love traveling in Ireland. We rented a car at the airport and traveled to Limerick near the Shannon Airport. We stayed at St. Rita's two nights. Our total bill for three of us including a breakfast served in a nice dining room was $14. We were served cornflakes, orange juice, white and dark bread, butter, marmalade, three large slices of bacon each, one sausage each, scrambled eggs and a pot of coffee. Delicious.

Last night was a genuine Medieval experience. We toured the Brunrathy Castle during the day and decided to return for the Medieval banquet, staged as they were during the 16th century. A huge fireplace was burning brightly and immense candles burned in huge candle holders on long tables. The expressions and language of that period were used. The entertainers were in costumes of velvet, satin and brocade. Classical music was played on violins, harps and strings. There were two outstanding soloists.

We were greeted at the door with a mug filled drink called mut, combination of honey, apple juice and cinnamon. An unsuspecting guest was chosen to be the Earl of Tolumard. He was seated in a huge carved chair in the center of the table arrangement. All evening he was addressed as "My Lord" and had to send a guest to the dungeon for flirting with the ladies. Guess who was chosen? My husband. On his left "My Lady" (myself) was seated and Rod was sitting on the other side, "Gentleman in Waiting".

It was hilarious. The fellow in charge would come up behind Reuben and instruct him as to the answer he was to give when addressed. The girls in beautiful long velvet gowns announced each course as it was being served and the Earl of Tolumard was served first, then myself and Rod, followed by the other guests. We had a special soup which we drank. Then huge plates of spare ribs were served. Our only utensil was a knife and each of us wore a large bib. We used our fingers to eat the food and then the finger bowls to dip our fingers into before wiping them on the huge bibs. The next course was a half chicken for each, cabbage chunks, another vegetable, unfamiliar to us, and large bowls of lettuce also bread which was broken off in chunks. The last course was a dessert, pudding type. All the while the acting was going on, shouting and slapping the table as they did during that time. They addressed Reuben as "My Lord" throughout the evening, asking for mercy for the prisoner who was in the dungeon — all in fun. Then the Irishmen had fun saying, "The Earl is an imposter" (since we were Americans). They shouted, "down with the Earl — hang the Earl". After it was over they said, "I hope you didn't mind the Irish humor". It was an exciting evening and very easy to roll back the years amidst these surroundings. This is the only reinactment in a castle in all of Ireland and Scotland during the off-season. This banquet is held every night of the year and it is well attended. During the tourist season it is very difficult to get reservations.

You should have seen us when we left Shannon to go back to Limerick. The car which we rented had a left drive and you also drive on the left side. The shifting is done by the left hand. We would drive too close to the gutter. We hit a garbage can and just skimmed a light pole. We went out in the countryside and practised driving. There are no rules. Everyone dogs, carts, people, cars across the streets anywhere. Cars are parked both directions on either side of the street.

Tonight we are at Killybegny. We have a very attractive guest house. We each have a comfortable bed, steam heat, hot bath and will have breakfast in a cute breakfast nook downstairs all for $2.40 each. We went out for a bit and when we returned each of us had a hot water bottle at the foot of our bed. We love Ireland. The people are so friendly and good to us.

Christian Science Sunday Sermon

"The Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly." These words from Psalms are the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "Soul." The Lesson-Sermon is the same in all Christian Science churches throughout the world.

One of the related passages to be read from the denomination text-book is the following: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation. Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Adventists Train For Medical Corps

The Seventh-day Adventist Church will hold a ten-day training camp for draft-age teenagers who object to bearing arms in military service at Soquel, August 14-23.

Harry Garlick, western director of the Adventist's National Service Organization, said he expects over 125 Adventists to attend the training session.

Seventh-day Adventists take a noncombatant position in regard to bearing arms, noted Garlick. However, Garlick said, the men will serve their country in the Armed Forces in any other capacity, such as the Medical Cadet Corps.

Garlick said about 27,000 Adventists have already received the special training. More than 400 are currently serving in Vietnam.

AN ESTATE SALE: There's a margin for profit for the buyer who purchases this neat modest home for $27,500 (or less) and renovates it for resale. A fresh paint job for the two bedrooms and tiled bath plus new cabinets and floor covering for the spacious kitchen will make this snug home quite marketable. A desirable location north of Serra in a pleasant area of homes, a shake roof, comfortable living room and separate dining room are all bonus features.

BACKGROUND FOR SPANISH FURNISHINGS: The hospitable living room with its high vaulted ceiling and tall windows sets the mood for this attractive home in an ideal setting. Reminiscent of Early California days or the sunny Mediterranean area, this prime family residence comprises three bedrooms (two on the second level), two baths, a country kitchen and a separate dining room. Wall-to-wall carpeting, draperies and range and refrigerator are included in the purchase price of $49,500. A hideaway studio or workshop is separated from the house by a garden with fruit trees.

ORIGINAL IN EVERY DETAIL! Typical of Henry Hill's imaginative design with its all-wood interior is this newly-listed home situated a short distance from the Village in a tranquil area of interesting residences. Featuring a compact and unusual floor plan that provides a living room opening to a deck, an informal kitchen and dining area, three bedrooms (on two levels) and two baths, this "different" home is suitable for fulltime or parttime occupancy. Interior of natural wood requires minimum maintenance as does the no-care garden. Exclusive Listing . . . $45,000.

Gonorrhea Common As Chickenpox

Last month 24 civilian cases of gonorrhea were reported to the Monterey County Health Department, compared with 27 cases of chickenpox. The military reported 46 cases of gonorrhea. Cumulative total thru June for civilians was 152, compared with 122 for last year.

Elaine Base, health educator for the county, reports:

Monterey County's major health problem is V.D.

In 1967 California reported 72,000 cases of gonorrhea; 11,000 cases of syphilis.

The alarming part of this is that approximately only 10% of the actual number are reported. There are probably 250,000 cases of V.D. in California.

It is our Number 1 communicable disease. Twenty-five percent (25%) are infections in teenagers (7th grade or 12 years of age up to 19 years).

Here in Monterey County, we have been experiencing some additional problems. We are finding apparently resistant strains of Neisseria gonorrhoeae. The resistance seems to be to penicillin and the broad-spectrum antibiotics. The Health Department has recently tried Vibramycin on approximately 50 patients, both male and female. The results were poor, especially in males and at the recommended dosage. As near as can be determined these apparently resistant Neisseria are not from Vietnam nor Korea.

Another problem having recently come to our attention is the asymptomatic male who is infected. It is not clear whether this is due to a particular bacterial strain, to host resistance or to both. Fortunately, the resistant and asymptomatic male cases have been fairly well confined to the "hippie" population. Unfortunately, this group is prone to sexual promiscuity and increased sexual activity.

Protection for each person and his sexual contacts is assured only by early diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up of each case. Diagnosis and treatment, kept confidential, may be obtained from the county health department at 1200 Aguajito Road, Monterey on Tuesday mornings, 8:30 to 11 a.m., and Friday afternoons, 1:30 to 4 p.m. From Carmel, the department which is near MPC may be reached by the freeway. There is an Aguajito exit ramp and the office is located 1/2 mile on the right. A bus goes to Fremont and Aguajito, from which there is a mile walk.

V.D. facts and information

BULLETIN

The first step to stop oil exploration forays into the off-shore waters of Monterey County, was taken at last night's meeting of the Association of Bay Area Governments (AMBAG), held at the Casa Munras in Monterey. The motion to approve a proposed resolution to seek state legislation to lock the door against such probing for oil, was made by Santa Cruz County Supervisor Henry Mello, seconded by Carmel Councilman Eben Whittlesey and unanimously approved.

The proposed resolution, drawn up by Carmel City Attorney William Burreigh and Monterey City Attorney William Marsh, was presented and explained to the group by former Carmel City Councilman Gunnar Norberg, at the request of Monterey Mayor Minnie Coyle, who heads AMBAG.

More details about this matter will be presented in next week's PINE CONE.

are available at the office daily. Available upon request is a publication entitled, "V.D. Information for Students."

Possible explanations for the increasing gonorrheal problems are:

1. Increased population.
2. "Hand-cuffing" of the Health Department by the lack of physician reporting of cases.
3. Increased rate of reinfections and retreatments in individuals.
4. Inadequate treatment.
5. General youth acceptance of sexual permissiveness philosophies.
7. Decreased stigma and anxiety over infection and present-day treatment.
7. Continuing general lack of meaningful education covering venereal disease.

Although there should be no need for it, your Health Department again pleads for physician cooperation in all facets of the problem.

Big Sur Folk Festival Sept. 7-8

The Big Sur Folk Festival will be held this year on September 7 and 8 on the grounds of Esalen Institute, Big Sur Hot Springs.

For the fifth year, folk-singer Joan Baez, surrounded on as well as off stage by family and friends, will lead the two-day festival that is the highlight of the Big Sur year. Performers include her sister Mimi Farina and Judy Collins, The Charles River Valley Boys as well as special guests like Richie Havens.

The Saturday and Sunday concerts both begin at 2 p.m. Tickets can presently be ordered by sending checks and self addressed envelopes to: Folk Festival, Coast Rt. 1, Monterey, California.

At a later date tickets will also be on sale at major outlets in Northern and Central California.

Glass-breaking mania overcomes resident

Tuesday night, Carmel police arrested Carl C. Myers, 21, of Carmel, after a wild spree in which he broke front windows of three different Carmel businesses.

Surf and Sand Drugstore, La Bonita Beauty Shop, and Monterey Peninsula Television were the victims of "a wild urge to break glass".

According to the police report, Myers left his residence on Guadalupe street and 1st Avenue after a party and proceeded downtown armed with two knives and a pair of pliers. He then let go to an uncontrollable urge to break windows.

Police were notified by residents in the area and apprehended Myers walking down Ocean Avenue.

Police said he confessed the acts and offered to pay damages.

Medical Assistants

Mary Simmons of Pebble Beach, Maureen Kimball of Carmel Highlands and Elizabeth Warrington of Carmel Valley are among eleven Monterey Peninsula College students who completed a one-year program in medical assistance. Certificates of achievement were awarded at a dinner at which many administrators and members of the graduates' families were present.

Trans-Canada Highway

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Genuit left the middle of July for Victoria. They traveled by trans-Canada Highway east to Regina and then dropped down to South Dakota where they visited Mr. Rushmore National Monument. They also attended the Passion Play at Spearfish.

Something To Do About Taxes

The City of Carmel was described by the county assessor as being an average 28 per cent. But in many individual cases, the assessment hike was much higher than that.

My wife and I, for example, found amazingly that the assessed value of our home property, was roughly doubled, and thus also our property tax, roughly doubled. Others, suffered even more acutely.

At the root of the problem is the urgent need for people to exert themselves, both individually and collectively. Instead of accepting the far too common view that is expressed in the, you can't-do-anything-about-it a ny how, psychology, you have to start to believe that something can, indeed, be done about the whole matter of the snowballing tax 'take' at all levels of government.

But this requires an attitude of continuing concern about tax matters. This, in turn, requires time and effort. Particularly, it requires the sacrifice of time at least to attend the many budget sessions of the local taxing bodies. Preferably, in addition, it involves the effort to find out in some detail the budget issues which face the taxing bodies—city councils, school and college boards, county boards of supervisors; special district boards. Individual taxpayers can find this effort enormously difficult, but they should insist that any appropriate organization to which they may belong, should exert itself meaningfully in detailed study of the budget issues which are first resolved before tax rates are set.

The individual property owner and the organizations to which he belongs, have a critically important role to play—and one, which neither he nor his organizations have played in recent years at least at the Carmel City Hall. And this, despite the fact that all budget sessions have been fully open to any public which might have wished to attend.

Just simple attendance, in significant numbers, by attentive citizens, would lead to the further whittling down of many costly budget proposals, and thus to worthwhile tax reductions.

If you will, for a moment, imagine yourself in the position of the elected official, who generally serves without pay, or with hardly more than nominal pay, and who usually sees very few if any of his electorate in the hall where he sits, you must surely be able to understand his dilemma. Seemingly the voters, not caring enough even to put in a token appearance at a budget meeting or a tax-setting session, do not seem to be even concerned — until much too late — about what kind of property tax they might have to pay.

For the over-all tax 'take' isn't, in any final sense, determined by assessed valuations. For example, if assessments are doubled, the taxing bodies can cut tax rates in half, and the end result then, is the same.

There is a technical difficulty, however, which can make this statement less than fully true. This comes about because the assessor's revised property valuations become effective each summer at about the same time that the taxing bodies are required to set their respective tax rates. Because new assessments do not become finalized until after what are called equalization hearings have been held, the taxing bodies can, and often do, set higher tax rates than they would if new assessments had been technically finalized, even though actually equalization hearings do, in practice, lower very few figures in new assessments.

The simple cure for this, would be a small change in state law which would make new assessments effective not in the particular July when they are announced, but in July of following year.

In one way or another then — in person, by phone, by mail — you must show your elected representatives that you do deeply care about taxes, that you do believe they can be intelligently lowered, and that you do understand and appreciate the extra time and effort which meaningful tax reduction would require if essential services are not to suffer.

While it's mostly too late for you to affect the fiscal 1969-69 property-tax burden, it's not too early to start thinking about next year's, to start talking about it, and to start figuring out what your own individual effort can be.

Meanwhile there is, for example, the proposition that you will see listed on next November's general election ballot, which would put a state-wide ceiling on property taxation at the level of one percent per year on the full value of the property. While approval of this proposition could produce new problems, it would tend to solve the largely unheeded but mushrooming property tax problems.

After thinking things through, you may finally decide that the ballot proposition should be approved simply to force state-wide attention upon the accelerating pace at which home owners, as well as others, are being pressed by burgeoning property taxation.

Parking Permit

Individual cities are in varying situations with regard to the imposition of alternative forms of taxation. A special form of taxation which would be peculiarly appropriate for Carmel would be a parking-permit tax based on the legal theory that cities are in full control of the parking rules which apply along their streets.

Such a tax would require everyone wishing to park along any street in the city, to pay a fixed fee for an annual Carmel Parking Permit. Upon payment of the dollar or two which this permit would cost, the purchaser would be given a windshield sticker, hopefully an esthetically attractive one (such as the Carmel 50th Anniversary sticker), to place on the windshield of his car. Such an annual parking permit, would not change any other existing time-parking regulation where such time-parking rules apply, but it would have the effect of compelling the one-day or week-end visitor to make some definite monetary contribution to the policing and maintenance of the city — and particularly its mile-long and world-wide famous beach.

Carmel is, in effect, used by tens of thousands of visitors on most week-ends, just as state and national parks are used, but too often without payment of any kind through any existing tax, to the city which is so used.

Ten years ago, when I was first elected to the City Council, I became chairman of an earnest and able citizen-group which was actively engaged in seeking solutions to specific Carmel city problems. It was a member of this Committee, Colonel Wesley Yale, now a resident of the Pebble Beach area, who first proposed this parking-permit tax.

Col. Yale was at that time would take to get her three youngsters down to Captain Cooper School.

All were passionately in favor of the superiority of the one room school over the large school, not only those in the neighborhood, but those such as Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bayless of Carmel, Mrs. Rudy Panholzer of Carmel Highlands, and Mrs. J. M. Kanevsky of Carmel Valley, who drove their youngsters there.

It was brought out that to bus the children to Big Sur would cost about $4500 per year.

The board split evenly in its vote on the motion by Dr. Hilton Bialek that the special education class be continued at another location in the Carmel area; that the Palo Colorado school be kept open as an attendance area school for residents of the Canyon.

Dr. Robert Newton, who seconded his motion, said that the Palo Colorado issue was the most complex he had ever handled in the seven years he had been on the board. "A solution unsatisfactory to all, cannot be the best solution".

Board president Steven Sassoon felt that the superintendent's recommendation should be respected and voted against the motion, as did Richard Wilsdon, who was in favor of continuing the special education school elsewhere.

On hearing that the motion to keep the school open had failed all expressed their dismay and dissatisfaction. One father said he would not send his children to Captain Cooper, if he had to endure imprisonment. Another mother said she would not endanger their lives on rainy days by sending them down the winding coast road.

Next meeting of the school board will be August 28, when it will be decided what to do with the school-house.

I feel that the new ordinances passed by the Carmel City Council are unconstitutional by their vagueness.

I plan to not rest upon my resentment, but resist what I feel is wrong, until we can all get back together or, perhaps, together for the first time.

I believe the police want to relax on the Park the same way the people do.

Carmel is my home, and yours;
